

CRITERION THEATRE.

ance Mr. Frank Mumgrove.
 Sub-Lessee and Manager: Mr. WILLIAM ANDERSON.
 Popular Prices: 25, 50, 60, 75. Early Doors, 60 extra.
 Bookings Free, 10c.

CONTAINED ROOM. HOUSE CROWDED NIGHTLY.
 ONLY 8 MORE PERFORMANCES 5 ONLY
 ONLY 8 MORE PERFORMANCES 5 ONLY
 ONLY 8 MORE PERFORMANCES 5 ONLY of

 WILLIAM ANDERSON'S
 Bright and Pictureque Domestic Drama Attraction, in 5 Acts,

THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH.
 THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH.
 THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH.
 THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH.

Written by CARLTON WALLACE.
 Dressed with costume and melody by the full strength of the most popular Organisation in Australasia.
 HEADED BY THE TALENTED ACTRESS,
 EUGENIE DUGAN,
 as The Blacksmith's Wife.
 EUGENIE DUGAN,
 Mr. ERNEST FITZ,
 Australia's Eminent Baritone, sings each night with Avril Flocks Longfellow's famous poem,
 THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH.
 His brow is wet with honest sweat,
 He earns what'er he can,
 And looks the while world in the face,
 For he owes not any man.
 Stage Director: Mr. J. H. MUNN.
 Produced under the management of J. H. MUNN.

WILLIAM ANDERSON.
Box Plan at Ely's. Day Sale Tickets at the White House Confectionery Cafe, Pitt street.
Business Manager, JULIUS GRANT.

CONCERN	THIS	FATHER.
NATIONAL	AMPHITHEATRE.
CATERER—ST (a few doors from King-st).
Sole Proprietor	Mr. James Brennan
Owner and Manager	Mr. Harry Brennan
TO-NIGHT	And Every Evening at 7.45.	TO-NIGHT
TO-NIGHT	Matinee every Sat. at 2.30.	TO-NIGHT
THE GREATEST SUCCESS OF THE AGE	ARRIVED IN THE
ANNALS OF THEATRICAL	ENTERTAINMENT
IN AUSTRALIA.	THE NATIONAL TO-NIGHT

STAGPOOLEE ENTERTAINERS.
GIANTIC SUCCESS—Applauded at the Echo,
MYRA, FAMOUS HAMMOND AND WEATT, ALICE.
A MAMMOTH PROGRAMME TO-NIGHT BY OUR BRILLIANT DOUBLE COMPANY, Read-by—
DENIS CARNEY (the greatest comedian),
The Stagpoole Trio (of Sketch Artists).
And The LENTONS (Acrobatic Comedians).
The Great The Great
The Great The Great MIRORAMA

POPULAR PRICES:
Orch. Stalls 6d., Gallery, 6d.
Stalls 1s.,
Children, Half-price (Gallery excepted.)
Box office charge for booking; doors open 7 1/2 minutes before performance.

sharp. Conclude 10.45.
NO EARLY DOORS.
 More Novelties for Saturday Next. Another new programme, and special management of "MORRIS and WILSON," and "Miss OLGA PENNINGTON."
 Business Manager, J. C. BAIN.
AM. FAMILY - HOTEL STEYNE.—An excellent Lunch and Dinner. Daily.
THE CANTERBURY DISTRICT HORTICULTURE, POULTRY SHOW, AND FANCY FAIR, in aid of the local Benevolent Society, will be opened on the Friday in the Kia-Ora Hall, Camperdown, for the MAYDAY EVENING, ON 24. OCTOBER, and continued SATURDAY, 25. OCTOBER, and EVENING, APRIL 26th and 27th. A first-class Musical Programme at each session. Children's Races, Ladies lady Drama Competition. Meet's Com. Drama Competition.

 E. T. LANE, Hon. Secretary.
 DANCING, Walking, Reversing, & Loosens, is given
 Mrs. Callaly, Fairview-st., Concord.
 LANTERN Views, at Annual Meeting, Sydney Reunion
 Work Society, Y.M.C.A. Hall, Tuam, 30th, at 7.
 DRUIDS' DEMONSTRATION.—To Bandmen, Ten-lady wanted for Bands to play in Procession and Clifton Gardens, on Prince of Wales's Birthday.
 JUNE.—Also, String Bands, for Dancing, Particulars from E. REXELLING, Demat. Sec., 267 King-street, Newtown.
 HOTEL WENTWORTH.
 SPECIAL GUEST NIGHTS—
 THURSDAYS AND SATURDAYS.

Owing to the great success of GUEST NIGHT, the Proprietress trusts that it will be necessary to have two nights in the week, she being rather too crowded for the comfort of guests.
 DINNER. 3s 6d.
 Mrs. MACLEUCAN, Proprietress.

LEGAL NOTICES.

 IN THE SUPREME COURT OF NEW SOUTH WALES.
 —Prædite Jurisdiction.—In the Will of GEORGE WILLIAM FARLEY, late of Stroud, near Gloucester, in the State of New South Wales, Farmer, deceased.
 Application will be made after fourteen days from the publication of this Probate of the last Will of the above-named deceased, may be granted to

ANNE SOPHIA FARLEY and ANGUS HENRY FARLEY, the Executrix and Executor named in the said Will, and all notices may be served at the Office of the said Registrar, and in default of service against the said deceased are notified to seal parties thereof to the Offices of the undersigned. HOOKE and MEIN, Solicitors, Dungeness.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF NEW SOUTH WALES.
Probate Jurisdiction.—In the Will of ANNE SOPHIA FARLEY, late of the County of Cumberland, New South Wales, Married Woman, deceased.—Application will be made after fourteen days from the publication hereof that Probate of the last Will of the above deceased may be granted in CHARLES JOHN FARLEY, GODDARD and HENRY CHARLES HERRING, the Executors named in the said Will; and all notices may be served at the office of the undersigned.

THE SUPREME COURT OF NEW SOUTH WALES
Probate Jurisdiction.—In the Will of JOHN A. DICKSON, late of Walland, in the State of New South Wales, Storekeeper, deceased.—Application will be made after fourteen days from the publication hereof that Probate of the last Will of the above-named deceased may be granted to JOHN A. DICKSON, the Executor named in the said Will, and all motions may be served at McDONNELL and MOFFITT, Solicitors for Executors, George and Wynyard streets, Sydney.

now, deceased. Applications will be made after the expiration of the term of the said will for the last Will of the above-named deceased may be granted to GEORGE FREDERICK BYRNES and MABEL VERTRUDE BYRNES, the Executor and Executrix respectively in the said Will. All persons having any claim against the said Will, or any person claiming to be interested in the said Will, are hereby requested to send in particulars thereof to the undersigned, at whose offices all notices may be served, GEORGE and MABEL BYRNES, Solicitors, 88 Pitt-street, Sydney.

THE SUPREME COURT OF NEW SOUTH WALES.—Probate Jurisdiction.—In the Will of ANN MCKAY, late of Yalumba, near Taralga, in the County of New South Wales, Spinster, deceased.—An Application will be made after fourteen days from the publication hereof that Probate of the last Will of the

DEAR, the note Executive named in the said Will and all persons having any claim against the said Estate are hereby required to send in particulars of same; and all matters may be served at the office of J. J. GILBERT, Solicitor, at the Executive's residence, 200 E. 9th Street, between LAURENCE, SON, and MACDONALD, 325 Pitt-street, Sydney.

The Office of the undersigned. Dated this twentieth day of April, A.D. 1907. KIERAN RYAN, Prosecutor for Administrator, Klama. By his Agent, A. W. WEAVER, Martin-place, Sydney.

MEDICAL, CHEMICALS, ETC.
STEEDMAN'S SOOTHING POWDERS.
 FOR CHILDREN.
 IN USE OVER 50 YEARS.

STEEDMAN'S	SOOTHING	POWDERS
------------	----------	---------

RELIEVE FEVERISH HEAT, PIL-LEVE FEVER, COLIC, CONSTIPATION, ETC.
PRESERVE A HEALTHY STATE OF THE CONSTITUTION.

STUEDMAN'S BOOTHING POWDER.
MADE ONLY AT WALWORTH, SURREY.
CONTAIN NO POISON.

PLEASE OBSERVE THE EE IN STUEDMAN.

SOLD BY ELLIOTT BROS.

BRAMHANS PILLS.
Prepared for the use of medicinal plants. Are unequalled as a general family medicine; to be taken any time and in all constitutions; to remove any ob-action to good health; to be used in all cases where the liver, bowels, or stomach would be benefited. It removes injurious deposits in the blood, and cures all skin diseases. Sold everywhere. 12 Q.V.M., George-st. 18, 25, 56.

CLARK'S BILI PILLS ARE WARRANTED TO Cure Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, and all kinds of Urinary Affections. Established upwards of 20 years. Sold by all Chemists and Patent Medicine Vendors throughout the world.

Proprietors: THE LINCOLN and Midland Counties Drug Company, Lincoln, England.

Remember that if one of KEATING'S LOZENGES had been used it would have stopped the Cough in a minute, and a good night's rest at once obtained. KEATING'S LOZENGES are simply unrivalled, the most delicate can take them. Sold by BLACKNESS.—CURE at Last. Don't go to sea with it. Modern discovery, is Gd. Also, the Electric Leadache Cure, immediate and refreshing effect. Post 25c, is, from P.O. Box 1220; or 52 Goulburn-st.

CAPTURE.—THURNEH of various kinds skiffed. Sydney. Tel. 1852. GUYATT and CO., 201 Geo.-st. Syd.

WANTED TO PURCHASE.
(Continued from page 3.)

PORTABLE COFFIN and stand. Quote lowest price to J. Yarroll, Auburn.

WANTED, about 50 loads or 800L, about 1s per load. Apply with samples to Medical Superintendent,
Royal Alexandra Hospital for Children.

WANTED, a second-hand "A1" TELEGRAPHIC CODE-BOOK.
Apply by letter, Box 92, G.P.O., Sydney.

WANTED to Buy, Loper, Brass, Gunmetal, Rubber, Rubber Canvas, & S. Holcomen, 67 Macquarie-st.

WANTED to purchase Go-cart, must be in good condition and cheap. W., 120 Hargrave-st, Padd.

WANTED, second-hand INVALID'S CHAIR. State price, etc. Genuine, P.O., Croydon.

WANTED, a Half-tonner Child's COY. VIA New Canterbury-st, Petersham.

EDISON MARCH RECORDS
NOW READY.
WILLOUGHBY AND CO.,
320 GEORGE STREET, SYDNEY.

EVERY TITLE IN STOCK.

IRON PHOTOGRAPHS, FROM 25c. OF WEEKLY
PRINTING SPECIAL RECORDS, 1a 6d each, 1 inc. for 100 others

THE LARGEST STOCKS IN AUSTRALIA.

STERLING PHOTOGRAPH PARLOURS.
Wholesale Jobbers for New South Wales,
Victoria, Queensland, South Australia,
(Opp. Clifton Theatre).

ALWAYS REMEMBER that you wish to BORROW MONEY CHEAPLY on the security of your own property.
LOW INTEREST is as follows:-
45 for 100, 40 for 250, 35 for 500,
30 for 1000

AND LARGER AMOUNTS AT LOWER RATES on Furniture and Personal Effects (on trading). Also on DEBTS, ERO, notes, etc. security. No delay or fees.

HANDY BARGAINS TO SUIT BORROWERS.

M. DAVIDSON.
8 and 4 (Ground Floor), WYNDHAM STREET,
60 ELIZABETH STREET, near KING STREET.

[illegible][illegible]

WANT TO ADVANCE MONEY

ON ALL SECURITIES.
FAIR INTEREST—EASY TERMS.

W. MONT DE PIETÉ CO., LTD., CAPITAL, $100,000,
FIFTY-FOUR CASTLEMAN-STREET (74), and HUNT-BURNETT, NEWCASTLE.

HURBANK MENNELL, General Manager.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SPIRITUALISM AND PACE. Weekly articles by J. NIGHT, 8, York-st., London, "The Spirits of the Dead," "The Mediums"
July 1907. Advertisements free. Clarendon Press.

U. S. Customs Inspectors, New York
Note Address: 75 CASTLEHAGH STREET, ONE
FLOOR FROM KING STREET. Next to Lerner's Resto-rant Hotel. All communications receive immediate reply.
TEL. 1578.

ADVANTAGES OF THE APOLLO.

- Being the latest of all piano-players, the Apollo naturally has special advantages—in fact, it has no less than 15 points of superiority.
1. By simply turning a button, the key can be changed.
 2. Right over the keys, so human like, and joined like a human wrist. This makes the touch clean and delicate.
 3. Wide or narrow rolls make no difference—this is handy in a climate like ours.
 4. No tireless tone pumping, as you play so the music renews automatically. A great time-saver!

The other 10 points we shall be pleased to point out to you, if you will favour us with a call—or, if you cannot call, post your address, and we will send you gratis an illustrated Catalogue.

WE SELL FOR CASH OR EASY TERMS.

We pack and pay freight free anywhere in Australia, and will take your spare piano in full payment at a fair valuation.

Our Library of Roll Music is the largest in Australia, and subscription rates are lower than usual.

THE BRITISH PIANO DEPOT,
9 BARRACK-STREET, NEXT SAVINGS BANK.

ALL SORTS AND CONDITIONS OF PEOPLE

DRINK CADBURY'S COCOA.

because, being absolutely pure, therefore the best Cocoa obtainable, it is the 'ideal food-ingredient' for every age, every occupation, and for all climates. It contains all the nutritive components of the cocoa-bean, with the fatty elements eliminated, so that the whole of the Cocoa is available for building up bone, muscle, and strength.

IF YOU ORDER
"WILLIAM WHITE" BREAD GET WHAT YOU PAY FOR.

The famous "William White" Bread is still manufactured by the same firm, under the direct control and management of Mr. W. White, who was the originator of the "William White" Bread, and who was the originator of the "William White" Bread, and who was the originator of the "William White" Bread.

NOT MADE BY A COMPANY.

And the same on all delivery cards and printed matter is invariably sent in full—"WILLIAM WHITE." Make sure you get the "William White" Bread. Don't accept bread made by "just-good" as that made by William White. Our many years' reputation stands solid behind every loaf we produce, and the quality is absolutely guaranteed.

WE ALSO MAKE ROVER BREAD.

WILLIAM WHITE, REDFERN AND NEWTOWN.

THIS WEEK'S SYDNEY MAIL.

WITH AN INTERESTING PRESENTATION PICTURE—MR. HARRY RAWSON AS "MIDDY."

HIS EXCELLENCY'S NAVAL JUBILEE—SPECIAL ARTICLE AND SPLENDID PICTURES.

THE ROMANTIC STORY OF BENJAMIN BOYD—FINELY ILLUSTRATED.

It is with confidence that we draw attention to this week's issue of the Sydney Mail. In the "Benjamin Boyd" story, we have the story of a man who has made a name for himself in the history of the Empire. The story is a thrilling one, and the illustrations are of the highest quality. The story is a thrilling one, and the illustrations are of the highest quality.

"BEHIND THE SCENES."

Is quite another category in a third feature. It has to do with the Theatre. There will always be a certain amount of romantic interest in the Theatre. However much humanity may be at work, it is always a certain amount of romantic interest in the Theatre. However much humanity may be at work, it is always a certain amount of romantic interest in the Theatre.

OTHER FEATURES.

Technicians will find a very interesting page, "The End of the Season," with pictures of the champion boxers.

Two remarkable pictures were taken in the harbour on Saturday. One shows a German ship sailing on through the Heads, with sails set—a magnificent sight. The other is a startlingly fine picture of the champion motor boat, the "Middie," in the hands of Mr. Harry Rawson.

Another feature is entitled to a valuable illustration in "The Romantic Story of Benjamin Boyd." Naturally there is also a good deal about Oswald Reilly, whose name, like that of Boyd's, will always be associated with the history of the Empire. The story of Boyd is a thrilling one, and the illustrations are of the highest quality.

AN ABSORBINGLY INTERESTING ISSUE.

THE SYDNEY MAIL.

PRICE SIXPENCE.

TENDERS.

ATHERTON AND FAIRVIEW—If you want best quality goods at lowest cost buy from ATHERTON AND FAIRVIEW.

FOR SALE, 100 Acres Good Land, near taking of the Sydney Harbour Bridge, for sale by ATHERTON AND FAIRVIEW.

THE ASSIGNED ESTATE OF ALEXANDER HAMILTON WALLACE, trading as WALLACE and CO., Wholesale Grocers, Blacktown and Sydney, for sale by ATHERTON AND FAIRVIEW.

TENDERS FOR BUTTER FACTORY AND MILK CHURCH—Tenders will be received by the City Engineer for the construction of a Butter Factory and Milk Church, to be situated on the site of the old Butter Factory, near the City Engineer's Office.

TENDERS FOR BUTTER FACTORY AND MILK CHURCH—Tenders will be received by the City Engineer for the construction of a Butter Factory and Milk Church, to be situated on the site of the old Butter Factory, near the City Engineer's Office.

TENDERS FOR BUTTER FACTORY AND MILK CHURCH—Tenders will be received by the City Engineer for the construction of a Butter Factory and Milk Church, to be situated on the site of the old Butter Factory, near the City Engineer's Office.

TENDERS FOR BUTTER FACTORY AND MILK CHURCH—Tenders will be received by the City Engineer for the construction of a Butter Factory and Milk Church, to be situated on the site of the old Butter Factory, near the City Engineer's Office.

TENDERS FOR BUTTER FACTORY AND MILK CHURCH—Tenders will be received by the City Engineer for the construction of a Butter Factory and Milk Church, to be situated on the site of the old Butter Factory, near the City Engineer's Office.

TENDERS FOR BUTTER FACTORY AND MILK CHURCH—Tenders will be received by the City Engineer for the construction of a Butter Factory and Milk Church, to be situated on the site of the old Butter Factory, near the City Engineer's Office.

TENDERS FOR BUTTER FACTORY AND MILK CHURCH—Tenders will be received by the City Engineer for the construction of a Butter Factory and Milk Church, to be situated on the site of the old Butter Factory, near the City Engineer's Office.

LANDS COMMISSION CASES.

CONSPIRACY CHARGE.

W. P. CRICK AND W. N. WILLIS ON TRIAL.

EVIDENCE CONCERNING CHEQUES.

The trial of William Patrick Crick, ex-Minister for Lands, and William Nicholas Willis, land agent, upon a charge of conspiracy, was continued before Mr. Justice Simpson and a jury at the Central Criminal Court yesterday.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

LAW REPORT.

EQUITY COURT.

(Before Mr. Justice G. H. Simpson, Chief Judge in Equity.)

DISPUTE BETWEEN HUSBAND AND WIFE.

Linkey v. Linkey.

On the application of Mr. Coghlan, who appeared for the plaintiff, Mr. J. M. Mitchell, appearing for defendant (to consent), this matter was adjourned to Friday week, with a view to a settlement, the instruction granted on Monday last to be continued in the meantime.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

The examination of Charles Frederick Hancock, formerly an officer in the A.J.S. Bank, was continued. He said in answer to a question by the Crown Solicitor, that he had seen a cheque for £250, drawn by Mr. Crick, and that he had seen it in the hands of Mr. Willis.

Mr. Picher, K.C., Mr. Garland, and Mr. Pollock, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute. Mr. Lamb, Mr. W. A. Walker, and Mr. Picher, instructed by Mr. Justice Simpson, appeared for the defence.

MACHINE-MADE HOUSES

PORTABLE ROOMS.

10ft. x 8ft.

Skillion Roof, £9 0s

Gable Roof, £10 10s

ERECTED FREE.

MADE TO ANY SIZE.

EMPIRE DEFENCE.

THE BRITISH SCHEME.

DISCUSSION IN CONFERENCE.

AN IMPERIAL GENERAL STAFF.

A SCHOOL OF WAR.

COMMON CONCEPTION OF STRATEGIC NEEDS.

NAVAL PROBLEMS.

LONDON, April 24.

On the resumption of the Colonial Conference yesterday.

Mr. R. B. Haldane, Secretary of State for War, moved, "That this Conference, without wishing to commit the Government to any definite action, recognize the need for developing throughout the Empire the conception of a General Staff, which should be recruited from the Empire forces, and which should be a means of co-ordinating the study of military science, collecting and disseminating military information, and undertaking the preparation of a scheme of defence on a common principle, with effect in the least interfering with the Government of administration, such staffs being capable of advising the various Governments regarding the direction of war and military organization throughout the Empire."

The resolution was carried.

Mr. Haldane, in addressing the Conference on his motion, urged the desirability of the organization of the military forces of the Empire upon a broad, not a rigid pattern, for common purposes.

He said that the Imperial General Staff should be given an Imperial character, and should be at the disposal of all the Governments or Commanders-in-Chief, should furnish advice and should supply intelligence of an expert description.

He did not desire that such a Staff should be in the slightest degree suggested that the autonomous colonies must accept any direction from Great Britain in military matters, but its trained advice should be at the colonies' disposal.

THREE GREAT PRINCIPLES.

Mr. Haldane furnished the Conference with papers dealing with strategic conceptions of the Empire from a military standpoint, emphasizing three great principles.

First, the obligation of the self-governing colonies to provide for their own local security.

Second, the duty of arranging for mutual assistance in the case of supreme common need.

Third, the necessity of maintaining our sea supremacy.

Great Britain, Mr. Haldane said, was organizing a territorial army for home defence, and an expeditionary striking force, both naval and military, designed to assist any part of the Empire.

UNIFORM ORGANIZATION.

Mr. Haldane emphasized the importance of assimilating war organization throughout the Empire by the adoption of a uniform system of organization. The value of uniformity in the organization of the Empire was increased if the colonies' system readily fitted into the war organization of the Imperial army in the field.

A highly-skilled General Staff was alone able to supply a common conception. It was essential that small arms and ammunition should be of the same pattern, also that adequate reserves should be prepared in times of peace. It was desirable that the autonomous colonies should obtain their ordnance and stores through the War Office.

The training of officers was very important. Great Britain was trying to secure a reserve of officers. If such a reserve was Imperial it would be a great additional security to the Empire. The British General Staff would cordially interchange officers with the colonial Staffs, thus creating an Imperial school of officers, thereby uniting the various traditions and accustomed to the same strategic principles.

THE TRAINING SCHOOL.

Replying to Sir F. W. Borden (Minister for Defence, Canada), Mr. Haldane said that the General Staff would not be an independent authority, exercising control over the Empire, but a training school which would lend experts to local General Staffs and receive assistance from the colonial General Staffs. He hoped that the colonies would send experts to help with the General Staff in order to hasten the evolution of the Imperial principle which his resolution offered.

FAVOURING BY CANADA.

Mr. F. W. Borden (Canada) said that he viewed the scheme propounded by Mr. Haldane favourably.

ATTITUDE OF AUSTRALIA.

Mr. Deakin (Australia) complimented Mr. Haldane on the luminous exposition of his scheme. He strongly urged publishing the speech in the Empire. He recognized the desire of Mr. Haldane not to infringe on the powers of the Governments and Legislatures of the colonies.

He recognized that the General Staff must meet to offer the mature advice of experts. He hoped that the Imperial Staff would extend the operations of the General Staff, while permitting the colonies to participate, would be heartily welcome in Australia.

INTERCHANGEABILITY.

Mr. Deakin fully accepted the principle of the interchangeability of weapons, and he approved of the principle of the interchangeability of units, but he doubted its practicability for Australia owing to her great distance from Great Britain and the smallness of her permanent force. Australia desired an extended interchange of officers, especially if they were of higher standing than had hitherto been sent.

The relative rank of officers in the outer and inner parts of the Empire required consideration. Australia was envious of Canada's progress in military schools. Australia felt the weakness of her system of offering her forces. Owing to the distance it would be difficult to maintain a sufficient and regular supply of entrants to local military colleges.

SUPPLY OF WAR MATERIAL.

Mr. Deakin said he noticed that experts urged the colonial Governments to armament for the local manufacture of war material and stores, rather than rely on the resources of the United Kingdom. He hoped that the Admiralty would encourage colonial armament factories by using their products. Australia had been driven to purchase supplies from private firms because she was unable to rely on the War Office. He thought that the colonies ought to be able to rely on securing the fulfilment of a reasonable proportion of their orders.

SUPPORT FROM NEW ZEALAND.

Mr. Joseph Ward (New Zealand) said he supported the voluntary co-operation of the colonial Governments and the General Staff.

HORRORS IN RUSSIA.

UNSPEAKABLE TORTURES.

ORDERED BY PROVINCIAL AUTHORITIES.

LONDON, April 24.

The report of the Commission of Enquiry into acts of repression by the provincial authorities was read to members yesterday. The report described medical and physical tortures inflicted on political prisoners and suspects in order to extract confessions from them.

The report states that the Governor of Riga, with the knowledge of the administrative authorities, the Public Prosecutor, and the Colonel of gendarmes, empowered a special committee to kill accused without trial. Some of the descriptions of the horrors are unprintable.

Further details of the tortures and the treatment of prisoners, other prisoners were killed with indurated sticks until their bodies were hanging in strips from their heads; salt was then rubbed into the wounds. A man was tied to a bench and a plank was laid across his body. A foot was then stepped on the plank until the man's back broke.

After the tortures the maimed wretches were generally shot near Riga prison.

The Government, in reply to an interpellation in the Duma, admitted the truth of the statements, but asserted that the allegations against the Public Prosecutor's department were exaggerated. It was added on behalf of the Government that M. Stolypin, the Premier, had ordered an inquiry and the prosecution of the guilty persons.

NAVAL POLICY.

UNITY OF CONTROL.

Lord Tweedmouth (First Lord of the Admiralty) explained the general principles influencing the Admiralty in the defence of the Empire, especially in the matter of the unity of control of the Fleet. He explained that the Admiralty's one aim was to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

The Admiralty, Lord Tweedmouth said, did not desire to press for further contributions of men or money. It cordially welcomed co-operation of the colonies in the form most agreeable to themselves. Whether they contributed or not the Admiralty would do its best to secure their freedom of action.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

HORRORS IN RUSSIA.

UNSPEAKABLE TORTURES.

ORDERED BY PROVINCIAL AUTHORITIES.

LONDON, April 24.

The report of the Commission of Enquiry into acts of repression by the provincial authorities was read to members yesterday. The report described medical and physical tortures inflicted on political prisoners and suspects in order to extract confessions from them.

The report states that the Governor of Riga, with the knowledge of the administrative authorities, the Public Prosecutor, and the Colonel of gendarmes, empowered a special committee to kill accused without trial. Some of the descriptions of the horrors are unprintable.

Further details of the tortures and the treatment of prisoners, other prisoners were killed with indurated sticks until their bodies were hanging in strips from their heads; salt was then rubbed into the wounds. A man was tied to a bench and a plank was laid across his body. A foot was then stepped on the plank until the man's back broke.

After the tortures the maimed wretches were generally shot near Riga prison.

The Government, in reply to an interpellation in the Duma, admitted the truth of the statements, but asserted that the allegations against the Public Prosecutor's department were exaggerated. It was added on behalf of the Government that M. Stolypin, the Premier, had ordered an inquiry and the prosecution of the guilty persons.

NAVAL POLICY.

UNITY OF CONTROL.

Lord Tweedmouth (First Lord of the Admiralty) explained the general principles influencing the Admiralty in the defence of the Empire, especially in the matter of the unity of control of the Fleet. He explained that the Admiralty's one aim was to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

The Admiralty, Lord Tweedmouth said, did not desire to press for further contributions of men or money. It cordially welcomed co-operation of the colonies in the form most agreeable to themselves. Whether they contributed or not the Admiralty would do its best to secure their freedom of action.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

AUSTRALIAN CONDITIONS.

RELATIVE WEALTH.

INESTIMABLE OPPORTUNITIES.

LONDON, April 24.

Dr. Hackett, of Western Australia, read a paper last night at the Society of Arts on "The Social and Economic Conditions of Australia." Mr. Deakin presided.

Dr. Hackett stated that with the growth of education in Australia there had been a great diminution of crime. In regard to the Labour party, calm consideration would probably be willing to pay a reasonable sum towards the cost.

The report states that the Governor of Riga, with the knowledge of the administrative authorities, the Public Prosecutor, and the Colonel of gendarmes, empowered a special committee to kill accused without trial. Some of the descriptions of the horrors are unprintable.

Further details of the tortures and the treatment of prisoners, other prisoners were killed with indurated sticks until their bodies were hanging in strips from their heads; salt was then rubbed into the wounds. A man was tied to a bench and a plank was laid across his body. A foot was then stepped on the plank until the man's back broke.

After the tortures the maimed wretches were generally shot near Riga prison.

The Government, in reply to an interpellation in the Duma, admitted the truth of the statements, but asserted that the allegations against the Public Prosecutor's department were exaggerated. It was added on behalf of the Government that M. Stolypin, the Premier, had ordered an inquiry and the prosecution of the guilty persons.

YOUTH TO BE TAUGHT.

Lord Tweedmouth (First Lord of the Admiralty) explained the general principles influencing the Admiralty in the defence of the Empire, especially in the matter of the unity of control of the Fleet. He explained that the Admiralty's one aim was to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

The Admiralty, Lord Tweedmouth said, did not desire to press for further contributions of men or money. It cordially welcomed co-operation of the colonies in the form most agreeable to themselves. Whether they contributed or not the Admiralty would do its best to secure their freedom of action.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

Lord Tweedmouth expressed the hope that discussion would show that it was possible to satisfy both Australian and New Zealand views. The Admiralty was not opposed to the policy Australia proposed, but it was unwilling to have the Admiralty's one aim to maintain the Fleet on a scale ensuring the retention of supremacy of the sea.

PREPARE FOR WAR.

GERMANY'S LESSON FROM FRANCE.

LONDON, April 24.

Lieut.-General von Bismarck, Prussian Minister for War, speaking in the German Reichstag yesterday, made a militant speech. He said that he was confident that the Reichstag would vote money to give the soldier the best weapon. The Germans would not act like the French, who, when in 1905 the like was overcast, lavished hundreds of millions of francs on their frontier in order to become ready for war.

Germany, he said, must be ready before it was necessary to use her weapons.

FIJI.

SUVA, April 17.

The hurricane season has passed and planters are very jubilant. The prospects for the year are brighter than ever before in the history of Fiji. Copra continues to command extraordinarily high prices, the market rate being 25s per ton in London, the export price for over 25 years. All the coconut plantations look remarkably well, and the prospects for heavy crops are good. The sugar cane at all the estates looks extra well, and the sugar output will be increased.

The visit of the Governor, Mr. Deakin, and there will be more fruit than the Australian and New Zealand markets can take. Copra plants look healthy, and promise good crops, but not this year. The Wainimala district is a nearly all required locality. Unsettled matters are being thrown open to the public, and there are indications of more settlers arriving from the neighbouring States and New Zealand.

An epidemic of dengue fever is all over the group. The type is more severe than usual, and much inconvenience is being felt by the natives. Such a disease is a great disadvantage to the colony, and it is a pity that public opinion has never expressed itself anywhere in any way whatever in this respect, which the Governor would like to see. It is a pity that the Governor would like to see.

The visit of the Governor, Mr. Deakin, and there will be more fruit than the Australian and New Zealand markets can take. Copra plants look healthy, and promise good crops, but not this year. The Wainimala district is a nearly all required locality. Unsettled matters are being thrown open to the public, and there are indications of more settlers arriving from the neighbouring States and New Zealand.

An epidemic of dengue fever is all over the group. The type is more severe than usual, and much inconvenience is being felt by the natives. Such a disease is a great disadvantage to the colony, and it is a pity that public opinion has never expressed itself anywhere in any way whatever in this respect, which the Governor would like to see. It is a pity that the Governor would like to see.

The visit of the Governor, Mr. Deakin, and there will be more fruit than the Australian and New Zealand markets can take. Copra plants look healthy, and promise good crops, but not this year. The Wainimala district is a nearly all required locality. Unsettled matters are being thrown open to the public, and there are indications of more settlers arriving from the neighbouring States and New Zealand.

STEEL, Jig Baw and Planning and Try-ing-up
MACHINERY on Younger, Annandale, &
Wright, Co., to lift 4 to 10 tons, soft jib,
1. Plumb, Equitable-building.

22
23
24
25
26
27
28
29
30 31 32
33 34 35
36 37
38
39 40
41
42
43
44
45
46
47 48
49
50
51
52
53
54
55
56
57
58
59
60
61
62
63
64
65
66
67
68
69
70
71
72
73
74
75
76
77
78
79 80
81
82
83
84
85
86
87
88 89
90
91
92
93
94
95
96
97
98
99
100
101
102
103
104
105
106
107
108
109
110
111
112
113
114
115
116
117
118
119
120
121
122
123
124
125
126
127
128
129
130
131
132
133
134
135
136
137
138
139
140
141
142
143
144
145
146
147
148
149
150
151
152
153
154 155
156
157
158
159
160
161
162
163
164
165
166
167
168
169
170
171
172
173
174
175
176
177
178
179
180
181
182
183
184
185
186
187
188
189
190
191
192
193
194
195
196
197
198
199
200 201
202
203
204
205
206
207
208
209
210
211
212
213
214
215
216
217
218
219
220
221
222
223
224
225
226
227
228
229
230
231
232
233
234
235
236
237 238
239
240
241
242
243
244
245
246
247
248
249
250 251
252
253
254
255
256
257
258
259
260
261
262
263 264
265
266
267
268 269
270
271
272
273
274
275
276
277
278
279
280
281
282
283
284
285
286
287
288
289
290
291
292
293
294
295
296
297
298
299
300
301 302
303
304
305
306
307
308
309
310
311
312
313
314
315
316
317
318
319
320
321
322
323
324
325
326
327
328
329
330
331
332
333
334
335
336
337
338
339
340
341
342
343
344
345
346 347
348
349
350 351
352
353
354
355
356
357
358
359
360
361
362
363
364 365
366
367
368
369
370
371
372
373
374
375
376
377
378
379
380
381
382
383
384
385
386
387
388
389
390
391
392
393
394
395
396
397
398
399
400
401
402
403
404
405
406
407
408
409
410
411
412
413
414
415
416
417
418
419
420
421
422
423
424
425
426
427
428
429
430
431
432
433
434
435
436
437
438
439
440
441
442
443
444
445
446
447
448
449
450
451
452
453
454
455
456
457
458
459
460
461
462
463
464
465
466
467
468 469
470
471
472
473
474
475
476
477
478
479
480
481
482
483
484
485
486
487
488
489
490
491
492
493
494
495
496
497
498
499 500
501 502
503
504
505
506
507
508
509
510
511
512
513
514
515
516
517
518
519
520
521
522
523
524
525
526
527
528
529
530 531
532
533
534
535
536
537
538
539
540
541
542
543
544
545
546
547
548
549
550
551
552
553
554
555
556
557
558
559
560
561
562
563
564
565
566
567
568 569
570
571
572
573
574
575
576
577
578
579 580
581
582
583
584
585
586
587
588
589
590
591
592
593
594
595
596
597
598
599
600
601
602
603
604
605
606
607
608
609
610
611
612
613
614
615
616
617
618
619
620
621
622
623
624
625
626
627
628
629
630
631
632
633 634
635
636
637
638
639
640
641
642
643
644
645
646
647
648
649
650
651
652
653
654
655
656
657 658
659
660
661
662
663
664
665
666
667
668
669
670
671
672
673
674
675
676
677
678
679
680
681
682
683
684
685
686
687
688 689
690
691
692
693
694
695
696
697
698
699
700
701
702
703
704
705
706
707
708
709
710
711
712
713
714
715
716
717
718
719
720
721
722
723
724 725
726
727
728
729
730
731
732
733 734
735
736 737 738
739
740
741
742
743
744 745
746
747 748
749
750
751
752
753
754
755
756 757
758
759
760
761
762
763
764
765
766
767
768
769
770
771
772
773
774
775
776
777
778
779
780
781
782
783
784
785 786
787
788
789
790 791
792
793
794
795
796
797
798
799
800
801
802
803
804
805 806
807
808
809
810
811
812
813
814
815
816
817
818
819
820 821
822 823
824
825
826
827
828
829
830
831
832
833
834
835
836
837
838
839
840
841
842
843
844
845
846
847
848
849
850
851 852
853 854
855